FlatBuddy

NEW MARKETPLACE CONCEPT · PRODUCT DECK

Find a roommate, not just a room.

A two-sided marketplace connecting students and working professionals with verified, compatible roommates.

- Verified profiles · ID, campus and employer checks
- Lifestyle matching · budget, schedule, habits and cleanliness
- Digital agreements · rent-sharing and move-in, handled in-app

One verified profile. One good match.

The Problem

Finding a compatible, trustworthy roommate is still broken

Scattered & informal

People rely on WhatsApp groups, Facebook posts, and word of mouth with no structure or accountability.

Trust & safety gaps

No identity or background verification, so people move in with strangers on blind faith.

Slow, painful search

Weeks of messaging, visits, and dead ends before finding someone who's actually compatible.

Costly middlemen

Local brokers charge steep one-time fees for a match that often doesn't work out anyway.

The Product

A dedicated two-sided marketplace for roommate matching

FlatBuddy is a mobile-first platform purpose-built for students and young professionals who need to find (or fill) a room with the right roommate — not just any tenant.

Verified profiles

ID, college / employer, and social verification for every user before they can list or apply.

Lifestyle matching

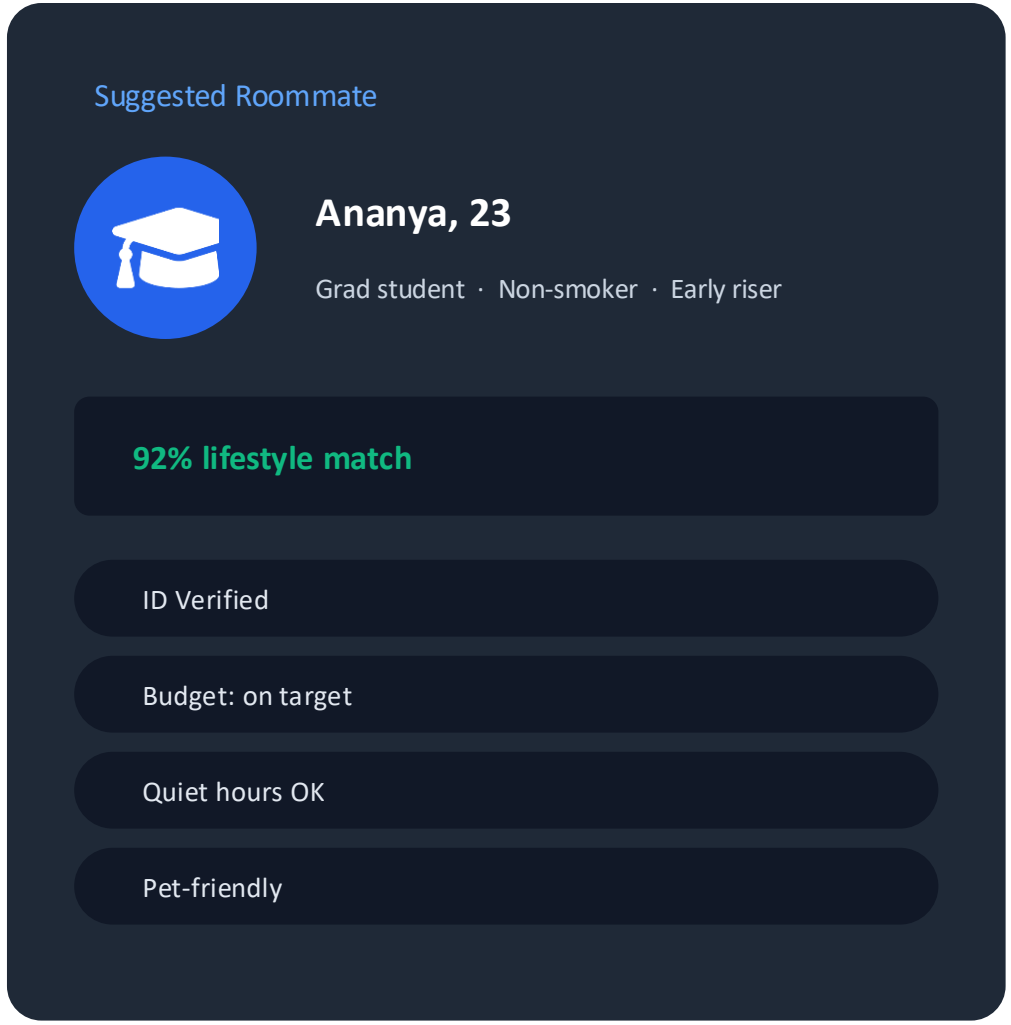

Budget, schedule, cleanliness, and habits captured up front to surface real compatibility, not just price.

In-app chat & visits

Message, video-intro, and schedule a room visit without ever leaving the app.

Agreement & move-in

Digital rent-sharing agreement and move-in checklist once both sides say yes.

Why a Marketplace Creates Value

Bringing both sides onto one platform makes the whole market work better

Network effects

Every new room listed attracts more room-seekers, and every new seeker makes listings more valuable — the platform gets stronger as it grows.

Trust layer

Verification, ratings, and in-app history replace blind trust with real signal, something no single Facebook group or broker can offer.

Better matching

Structured data on budget, habits, and lifestyle produces matches that actually stick, cutting turnover for hosts and seekers alike.

Speed & liquidity

A always-on, searchable inventory replaces one-off posts, so both sides find a match in days, not weeks.

How It Works

A simple three-step journey for anyone on either side of the market

1

Create & discover

Build a verified profile with budget, location, and lifestyle preferences, then browse or get matched with listings.

2

Connect & visit

Chat in-app, do a video intro, and schedule an in-person visit when both sides are interested.

3

Match & move in

Confirm the match, generate a shared rent agreement, and move in with a compatible roommate.

Building the Supply Side

“Sellers” = people and PGs/co-living operators with a room or spot to fill

Partner with PGs, hostels & co-living operators

Bulk-onboard existing room inventory from property managers so the marketplace has depth from day one.

Recruit existing tenants looking to fill a spot

Target people whose current roommate is leaving — the highest-urgency, easiest-to-convert seller.

Referral & early-lister incentives

Reward first movers with free premium placement or cash incentives for a completed match.

Campus & office community outreach

Work with college housing boards and company relocation/HR teams who already field this exact question.

Building the Demand Side

“Buyers” = students and working professionals searching for a roommate

Campus ambassador & orientation tie-ups

Be part of new-student housing orientation, where the roommate question is most urgent and top of mind.

Employer & relocation partnerships

Offer FlatBuddy as a housing benefit inside new-hire and relocation kits at companies with young, mobile workforces.

Performance & content marketing

Targeted social ads and SEO content (“roommate near me”, city guides) to capture active search intent.

Referral loop

Every successful match creates two happy users with a reason to invite their next roommate search to FlatBuddy too.

How We Make Money

A layered monetization model that grows as trust and volume grow

Premium subscriptions

Seekers pay for unlimited matches, priority placement, and advanced filters; hosts pay to feature a listing.

Success / booking fee

A small commission or fixed fee charged once a match is confirmed and an agreement is generated.

Verification add-ons

Paid identity, background, and income checks that build trust for a more serious search.

Partnerships & ads

Referral revenue from moving, furniture, and insurance partners, plus featured slots for co-living operators.

Primary near-term driver: booking fees + premium subscriptions. Verification and partnerships scale in as trust and volume build.

Every roommate search should end in a match that sticks.

FlatBuddy turns a stressful, informal search into a trusted, structured marketplace for both sides.
